

MMCN (Maine Military Community Network) Brunswick/Topsham Meeting Thursday, August 19, 2010

“Connecting Maine Military Families with their LOCAL Communities”

The MaineMCN is a collaborative effort by Maine organizations, volunteers, and others like you, to raise awareness about the challenges military service members, veterans, and their families may face. Across the state, Mainers are working together to help connect military service members, veterans and families to resources available in their communities. Together we can help ensure that no matter whom a military service member, veteran or family turns to, he or she will find the assistance they need.
